Parade, Fire Share Main Bill

By KATHY NORRIS

A hail storm and a two-alarm fire mixed with the color and excitement of SJS Homecoming as students, alumni and faculty joined in "Spartasia" activities Saturday.

Homecoming festivities began when Spardi lit a 35-foot wood pile at a rally Friday night.

Students and alumni gathered around the crackling bonfire at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds to view performances by the Chantymen, a three-man singing group, and watch presentation of Homecoming Queen Mary Blomquist and her court and Dean William Sweeney, grand marshal. Song girls, yell leaders and a pep band promoted Homecoming spirit.

A chilly autumn breeze blew but the sun shone for the annual Homecoming Parade through downtown San Jose Saturday afternoon. Approximately 2,500 persons lined the streets to watch a procession of floats, old fire engines, alumni cars and bands.

Flames and black smoke billowing from a brake service company on First Street near the parade route temporarily halted the procession and attracted the attention of parade spectators.

The Alpha Tau Omega-Alpha Chi Omega float "Neptune Rules From Sparta" took the 1964 first place trophy. This year's win was the fourth consecutive one for ATO.

The "A" Division float depicted King Neptune ruling his deep sea kingdom from a shell throne. Soap bubbles drifted over colorful fishes and a winking mermaid as the float halted in front of the reviewing stand.

Second place in "A" Division went to Sigma Kappa and Sigma Phi Epsilon for their float entitled "They'll Never, Never Land." With 10 moving parts, the float depicted a crocodile with a bulldog in its mouth and Spardi on its back. An old ship rocked on blue crepe paper waves behind the crocodile.

Alpha Phi and Sigma Nu captured third place in Division "A" for their entry, "Puff, the Magic Dragon." Standing in a bed of paper flowers on the float, the dragon puffed steam from its mouth.

Newman Club won first place in the "B" Division and Kappa Delta captured first place in the novelty division.

KNTV cameras, situated at Fifth and San Fernando Streets, provided two hours of parade coverage under supervision of Professor Frank McCann and the radio-TV division of the Drama Department.

After campus dinner receptions, alumni, students and visitors flocked to Spartan Stadium to watch the Spartans' 26-14 victory over the Fresno State College Bulldogs. A sudden hail storm and heavy rains 15 minutes before game time caused spectators to huddle under blankets and umbrellas.

Roger Black, sophomore, won the first place trophy for his performance in the pre-game hootenanny.

In spite of heavy rain, Roger Muzzy's SJS Marching Band performed halftime stunts on the muddy field, and Maxine Furuke, the band's baton twirler, gave her last performance at SJS.

Queen Mary and her court and Grand Marshal Sweeney stepped to a platform in the center of the field where Bob Himel, homecoming chairman, presented them to the crowd.

Winners of the Downtown Merchants Association window display contest were: J. C. Penney Co., first; Mosher's, Ltd., second; and Roberts' Bookstore, third.

Faculty, students and homecomers left the game Saturday night to join friends at fraternity parties, the alumni dance, and at gatherings all over San Jose as "Spartasia" activities drew to a close.

Homecoming activities were planned and supervised by Bob Himel and his 19-member Homecoming committee. Campus organizations contributing their services to Homecoming include Alpha Phi Omega, bonfire building; Spartan Spears, grandstand hostesses; and Spartan Shields, parade marshaling.

According to Donald Betando, faculty adviser to the Homecoming committee, persons and organizations contributing to Homecoming are "too numerous to list."

SJS Graduate Returns

Irene Dalis To Sing Monday

Irene Dalis, world-renowned opera star, will present a recital Monday night at 8:15 in Concert Hall. In this appearance the mezzo soprano is returning not only to her home town of San Jose, but also to her alma mater. She was graduated from SJS in 1946 with a B.A. in music.

The recital is the second production of the semester for ASB's Spartan Programs Committee. Tickets are available through Monday in the Student Affairs Business Office, B1. Tickets for students and faculty are free. General admission is $1.50.

Star of the New York Metropolitan Opera, San Francisco Opera, Berlin Municipal Opera, London's Covent Garden (Royal Opera House), and the Bayreuth Festival, Miss Dalis will present a five-part recital.

Miss Dalis, currently in Los Angeles with the San Francisco Opera Company, will sing in Concert Hall prior to her return to New York to participate in the Metropolitan Opera season. She will be accompanied by George Posel at the piano.

PROGRAM SELECTIONS

Opening the program, Miss Dalis will sing the aria "Divinites du Styx" from "Alceste" by Christoph Willibald von Gluck. Following the aria, selected works of Schubert will be featured, including "Der Wanderer" and "Die junge Nonne."

In the third part of the recital, the mezzo soprano will sing selections of French composers Debussy, Faure and Poulenc.

Highlighting the recital, Miss Dalis will perform Gustav Mahler's "Kindertotenlieder" (Songs on the Death of Children). The five-part song cycle is the major work of the evening.

Closing the program Miss Dalis will sing Benjamin Britten's "A Charm of Lullabies," consisting of five songs. The performance marks

313 Pints of Blood Donated in Drive

Three hundred thirteen pints of blood were collected in the one day SJS Student Blood Drive held November 10. The drive was co-sponsored by the Air Force ROTC and Sigma Kappa Sorority.

Trophies have been awarded to Sigma Kappa sorority with 68 per cent donating in the sorority class; AFROTC led the nonfraternity group with 41 per cent, and in the fraternity class Sigma Pi placed first with 75 per cent donating. The highest fraternity number donating was Alpha Tau Omega with 55 donors.

The Blood Drive enables SJS students to draw blood from the college blood bank when needed by themselves or their immediate family. Miss Martha Allhouse, activities adviser, in the activities office, A242, 294-6414 ext. 2231 should be notified when blood is needed.

Campus Blood Drive co-chairmen are Mike McMahan, Bill Nicholas and Miss Wendy Wolff.

the West Coast debut of the Britten selection.

SJS TO STARDOM

After graduation from SJS, Miss Dalis went to New York to continue her vocal study. As recipient of a Fulbright Scholarship in 1951, she went to Milan for further study. Her opera debut came in 1953 at the Oldenburgisches Staatstheater in Oldenburg, Germany. She debuted in the role of Princess Eboli in "Don Carlos."

Upon completion of her Oldenburg contract, Miss Dalis became the leading mezzo soprano with Berlin Municipal Opera in 1956.

Returning to the United States in 1957, Miss Dalis made another debut as Princess Eboli; this time at the New York Metropolitan. Since then she has added to her worldwide collection of laurels with such engagements as London's Covent Garden, San Francisco Opera and the Bayreuth Festival.

Electric Guitar Reported Stolen

A guitar valued at $556 was reported stolen early Sunday morning from a musician who left it in a fraternity house where his band was playing.

Marvin Allen Webster, 1402 Helmond Lane, reported to San Jose Police that his electric guitar was stolen from the Lambda Chi Alpha house, 41 S. 13th St., between 1 and 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

Webster had left his guitar on a stand while he took his girl friend home. The group with which Webster plays is the Chevelle's.

Button Numbers Posted Today

Holders of Homecoming buttons are requested to check the list of award button numbers posted on the window of the Spartan Bookstore, according to Dick Romm, activities adviser.

Holders must bring their buttons to the Activities Office, ADM-242, by 5 p.m. tomorrow, Romm stated.

Results of the contest were not announced at the Homecoming game, due to rain and thinning crowds, according to Rodger Miller, button chairman.

Dr. Clark's Inaugural Set for May

Dr. Owen Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Minnesota, will deliver the principal address at the inauguration of Pres. Robert Clark in the Civic Auditorium. Although Pres. Clark was officially appointed the 18th president of SJS on Sept. 11, the inaugural ceremony will be May 4, Founder's Day.

Dr. Wilson is a personal friend of Pres. Clark. He was president of the University of Oregon from 1954-1960. Pres. Clark was on the faculty of the University of Oregon for 20 years before becoming president of SJS.

An academic procession of delegates and faculty will walk from the campus to the Civic Auditorium preceding the inaugural program.

Proposed plans for the program include musical selections, Dr. Wilson's address, a response by Pres. Clark and the recessional.

A luncheon for delegates and honored guests will be held in the Empire Room of the St. Claire Hotel following the morning program.

Glenn S. Dumke, chancellor of the California state colleges, Edmund G. Brown, governor of the state of California, and each of the state college presidents has received invitations to the inaugural ceremonies.

Cafeteria, Library To Re-Open Friday

While most SJS buildings will be closed to students during the entire four-day Thanksgiving vacation, Spartan Cafeteria and the library reopen their doors.

Cafeteria hours will be 7:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, with hot lunch served at the snack bar.

Besides regular hours Saturday and Sunday, the library will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday. Holiday cancellations include Wednesday and weekend Co-Rec, and the book talk.

Classic films will be shown Wednesday at the regular times.

Total SJS Yardage Decides Grid Contest

Since all winners missed two games, the ability to predict SJS' total net yardage against Fresno State last weekend proved to be the key to winning last week's Spartan Grid Picks football contest.

Coming closest to the actual yardage was Joel Dunham, 80 Auzerals Ave. For his efforts Joel wins a round-trip, jet-powered flight to Los Angeles on PSA.

Five runner-up winners will be mailed pairs of free theater tickets to the United Artist Theater downtown. They are: Pat Lynch, 234 S. 11th; Don Funk, 910 Jean Drive, Campbell; Karen Marrs, 511 E. Reed St.; Doug Stewart, 52 Roosevelt; Palo Alto; and Marti MacInnes, 49 N. 10th.

There will be no Spartan Grid Picks this week because of Thanksgiving vacation.

The final Spartan Grid Picks contest will appear on December 2 and will consist of the 12 games being played in the nation that week.

Tower List Cards

Students are urged to pick up their IBM rating cards for the Tower List today and tomorrow. Men of Tau Delta Phi are manning booths in the cafeteria and in front of Spartan Bookstore.

Cards will not be distributed in classes until next week. Tom Ferrito said, since the honorary fraternity hopes to contact most students out of class, awards to individual winners and the winning organization.

Two divisions will be run together:

A Novice division for students who have not competed in intercollegiate track or cross-country, or who have not competed in any college track or cross-country events; and an Open division for all other students.

A traveling trophy will be awarded to the organization that has the greatest number of participants finish the event within 30 minutes.

Individual trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place finishers in each division.

In addition, a live turkey, duck and chicken will be given to first, second and third place finishers in the overall event.

Alpha Tau Omega won the event last year. Dave Sanchez of Allen Hall was the Open division winner, while Ken Williams took honors in the Novice section.

News Editor Ewald Osers Speaks Today

"The Soviet-British Confrontation in Broadcast Propaganda" will be discussed by Ewald Osers, analyst, news editor and producer for the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), in Concert Hall this afternoon at 1:30.

Osers' speech will be sponsored by the College Lecture Committee, the Journalism and Advertising Department and the ASB.

A resident of England since he earned his B.A. degree there in 1938, Czech-born Osers has been employed by BBC since 1939. At BBC, Osers is concerned with analysis and processing of incoming foreign news and propaganda broadcasts, particularly Soviet broadcasts.

He has also planned, edited and produced broadcasts aimed at the Soviet Union. His other accomplishments include the translation of 20 books from German and his native Czech into English since 1945.

'Bank Dick' Film Rolls Tomorrow

"The Bank Dick" is the classic film series presentation tomorrow at 3:30 and 7 p.m. in TH55. Admission is free.

Along with "The Bank Dick" is "A Day in the Country," the story of a Parisian family.

Classic film series is sponsored by the Spartan Programs Committee and Rollin E. Buckman, audio-visual service center coordinator.

Question Man

Tower List

What value does Tau Delta Phi's Tower List have on this campus?

By CAROLYN CHASE

Pat Daniell, senior, social science:

I think it serves to give the student a general idea of what to expect from a teacher, but you have to remember the remarks found in the Tower List are personal reactions and observations of one student to a teacher. Therefore in the long run you have to judge for yourself.

Chris Buckner, senior, interior design:

For new students and people taking general ed courses, Tower List gives a perspective that a student wouldn't get otherwise. You may not be acquainted with the department and policies, thus it gives a good insight into the teacher.

Nancy Studhalter, junior, history:

I think it is helpful in directing a new student in the right way. It's a collegiate bible because it gives us something to go on.

Wayne Metcalf, junior, mathematics:

I think it's completely essential to choosing profs and classes because a person just can't get around to meet all the professors. I think it presents an unbiased opinion of a group of students, not just the discrimination of one student.

Art Andrews, graduate, physical education:

I think Tower List has good and bad points. It tends to antagonize professors. However, you get a good look at professors that you can choose according to your ability to learn.

Bill Sherriff, senior, public administration:

I think it's useless. There isn't enough cooperation within the student body to fill out the forms properly and give a wide enough variety of student opinions. It doesn't help in specific courses.

The Fruits of Your Labor

John Stevens, often called the "father of American railroads," was an inventor whose work had tremendous impact on the growth of transportation. After perfecting the first multi-tube boiler to increase the efficiency of steam engines, Stevens asked Congress for a means to protect his right to his invention. The result was the foundation of our present patent laws.

Stevens was simply asking his government to protect his right to the fruits of his own labor. This is entirely within the province of the constitutional system of safeguards for the rights of individuals. There is a big difference between this and the cry for welfare programs which distribute widely and inequitably the fruits of the labor of others. One makes self-reliant, enterprising people; the other makes a nation of dependents. And dependency leads to slavery.

This is the crime of socialism; and socialism is the road we travel further with every handout program and the incentive-destroying tax structure that goes with it.

DON'T PUT ME ON

By TOM POWELL

The word "Thanksgiving" recently has become synonymous with the word "vacation." The word "turkey" also seems to be conjured up in delicious images when Thanksgiving is mentioned.

In a time of intellectual challenge, similar to that found in a collegiate atmosphere, it is often difficult to convince the local skeptics that Thanksgiving is to be directed to God for our blessings.

So, in an attempt to satisfy both the dubious and the faithful, I'll try to bring to light some of the good things to be remembered during the upcoming occasion. You can figure out whether you want to be thankful.

Do you remember what happened to the carrier pigeons and the dodos? Well, it may happen to the whooping crane.

My heart skipped a beat when I found out yesterday that three more whooping cranes have made it safely to winter quarters at a wildlife refuge on the Gulf Coast. The last wild crane flock in existence now numbers 25 adults and eight young.

Some day I'll tell my grandchildren about the "good old days" when the whooping crane cavorted about in endless beauty.

We don't think about it much any more—but most of us will be traveling home in some type of mechanical vehicle. Long ago, folks would have to sit around and think wistfully about home because 60 miles was too far to ride horseback—if they had a horse.

The wonders of our modern-day world leave little thought in our minds for how it all came to be. The fact that we're all here at SJS, from all parts of the world, was a mere dream in days gone by.

Thanksgiving brings a brief four days of vacation. Remembrance of what it means could add a bit more happiness to a year of life.

So, as you're cruising down the highway to Los Angeles or Guthrie Center, Iowa (cussing the traffic all the way), think of some of the little things that you have to be happy about. That's what the holiday is for.

Twirler Maxine Expresses Thanks

Mr. Roger Muzzy, San Jose State Marching Band, Band-aids, and student body:

I wish there were words to describe the feelings I had in my heart during the half-time ceremonies of the 1964 Homecoming football game. All I can say is... THANK YOU!

Those few moments before and after my performance will mean more to me than winning the grand national title in baton twirling. I don't think such an honor as you have given me has ever been presented to a majorette before.

Tears of happiness and sadness filled my eyes during my last performance. Happiness because I was proud to be part of such a fine and wonderful group as the San Jose State Marching Band and sadness because I have to leave all of you.

Thank you Mr. Muzzy for being so patient with me and thank you for all that you have done for me.

Thank you band and band-aids for the beautiful red roses and lovely gold bracelet and all the encouragement you have given me.

Thank you students of San Jose State College for being such a wonderful audience these last three years. It has been a pleasure performing for each and every one of you.

I will never forget my three years at San Jose State and especially those few wonderful moments you gave to me at the 1964 Homecoming football game. It has been an honor and a pleasure being your majorette. THANK YOU!

'Council at Fault For Too Many Ads'

Editor:

A recent letter regarding Spartan Daily advertising volume raises certain questions of vital concern to both the Daily ad staff and the student body.

Unfortunately these issues require a more elaborate statement and briefing in newspaper production than can be provided in Thrust and Parry. We would be happy to explain our method of operating to any group of students interested in understanding our problems. A faculty committee and the Student Council are exploring these questions in depth to achieve a solution. The financing of the newspaper does not have a simple solution.

The Nov. 19 letter contains unjustified inferences to the moral integrity of the student staff. The unpaid staff members work more than 15 hours per week for three credits.

We agree there is a "profusion of advertisements." However, we wish to direct the complaint to the Student Council and the student body. These groups have the power and ability to remedy the situation.

The Daily attempts to reach the student body with an appropriation of $26,250. This amount is less than 25 per cent of the total operating budget. We have learned to live with this allotment. If the Student Council grants us more money, we will be happy to increase the newspaper's circulation and editorial-advertising ratio. However, we cannot saddle the Student Council with the large deficit that would occur if we ignored the actual costs of producing the Daily.

Given additional funds, a better Spartan Daily could be produced. We are proud of our newspaper despite the financial handicaps. If any students feel they can help us do a better job, they are invited to join the staff next semester. Their constructive aid will be welcomed.

YOUNG CALIFORNIA SHOP, SECOND FLOOR

Mademoiselle Holds Competition For College Writers, Artists

Twenty desks at Mademoiselle Magazine headquarters in New York await college writers, possibly someone from SJS.

The magazine has announced the 1964-65 contest with separate divisions in writing, fiction, poetry, one-act plays, art, and photography.

The big prize is a Mademoiselle Guest Editorship for 20 coeds. They will be paid for working June to put out the magazine's August issue. They will meet well-known writers and leading designers, visit advertising agencies, publishing houses and the fashion market.

The contest is open to women who will not graduate before May, 1965. To accept a guest editorship, coeds must be eligible to work in New York City for the month of June. Mademoiselle will pay round-trip flight fares.

Manuscripts must be typed, double-spaced on one side of the page only and cannot be returned unless accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Prizes in the art competition include two first prizes of $500 each and two entrants in the photography competition will win $250 first prizes and publication of their work in Mademoiselle. Art division entrants should photograph their entries and submit them in the form of 35 mm. slides.

Poetry winners will get $100 and fiction and play winners will receive $500 each. All winning entries will be published.

To enter, coeds may pick up entry blanks with complete rules in the Spartan Daily office, J208, from Jane Hoyt. Contest deadline is Dec. 5.

AQUA BOBBING BEAUTY—SJS senior Sharon Moy was the center of attraction at the World's Fair when she performed atop the aqua-bobber which floated in 2,300 gallons of water in a Chevrolet dump truck. By shifting her weight, she made the platform overlook the Grand Central Parkway four stories below.

All Eyes on Aqua Bobber

By JANE HOYT

A pony-tailed SJS coed was the center of attraction this summer as she swung in the air with the greatest of ease—that daring young girl on the flying trapeze.

For Sharon Moy, financial reward at the World's Fair was greater than the nerve it required to perform acrobatics four stories up.

Although Sharon claims she is afraid to go off a high dive, she performed tricks on a bobbing platform which rested in a truckful of water. All this happened when Sharon worked at the World's Fair outside the General Motors building.

Seen by millions, she performed stunts atop an "aqua bobber" which floated in 2,300 gallons of water in a heavy-duty dump truck. By shifting her weight, she swung from a height of 25 feet above the ground down in all directions until the pole was nearly parallel to the top of the truck body.

FAMILIAR SIGHT

Chevrolet's aqua bobbing beauty became a familiar sight to motorists and Fair visitors. The platform was located near the interchange of the Long Island Expressway and Grand Central Parkway.

Although the senior sociology major from Stockton performed only 15 minutes out of every 90 minutes, she was quite a traffic stopper.

"During the evening traffic rush, people would honk and wave. Soon I recognized certain cars and always waved back," smiled Sharon, flashing her dimples.

"I guess I was the cause of four wrecks. People took their eyes off the road and ran into poles and each other—but none was serious."

In real life Sharon is petrified of heights. Two years ago she fell out of the Gamma Phi Beta house second-story window.

NERVE

How did she have the nerve to become an aqua bobber?

"Well, I didn't look down. I just looked up—and collected my pay check ($200) each week. It's just like anything else. Once you become acclimated, it's not so terrifying," she winked.

Miss Moy joined the hordes in mid-June to interview for the job. "I got it because I feigned the most nerve when I climbed the pole to the aqua bobber. Some of the girls climbed up, but became afraid and had to be carried down."

As the "night crew," she hung by her stomach, knees and hands, doing tricks. For two weeks following the interview she practiced every night after the fair closed "so no one could see me if I goofed."

SUDDEN END

Sharon bobbed from the latter part of June until mid-August. The act came to a sudden end when the "day crew," the young woman who worked from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., fell and broke her neck.

Sadly Sharon took off her short red skirt and white cheerleader's sweater with a "C" for Chevrolet and hung it in the closet. No longer would she be seen by a million people each week who were attracted to the fair.

San Diego Here Saturday for Football Finale

Eleven members of the San Jose State football team will play in their final college game against San Diego State next Saturday night, at Spartan Stadium.

Game time will be 8 o'clock. Those appearing in their final game are Bob Bonds, Jim Cadile, Herb Engel, Robert Goss, Bill Harrison, Bill Holland, Robert Kroll, Mike Lowry, Bob Patterson, and Jim Ross. Dave Johnson, who was injured earlier this season in the Stanford game, also is a senior.

San Diego State, rated as the No. 3 small college team in the nation, will be a slight favorite over the Spartans.

Even though the Aztecs haven't played the tough schedule SJS has been confronted with, they have trounced their opponents. Los Angeles State has been SDS' only loss in nine games, 7-0.

The Southlander's wins have come over Cal Poly (Pomona),

53-8; SF State, 54-0; Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo), 59-7; Long Beach State, 45-8; UCSB, 50-9; Fresno State, 44-6; and Cal Western, 50-6.

Backs Gary Garrison, a junior transfer from Long Beach City College, and Jim Allison will have to be watched closely by the Spartan defense. "Garrison," relates coach Bob Titchenal, "will have to be two-timed. He moves around a lot and is San Diego's top pass receiver."

Titch also said SDS' line will be the best the Spartans have faced this year. Linemen Ralph Wenzel and Buddy Jones, both former SJS gridders, and John Farris are top competitors.

"San Diego quarterback Rod Dowhower, who is a good passer, will have to be pressured by our defense if we expect to stop them," noted the SJS head coach.

Titch praised Doug Bockus and Rich Lachapelle for their defensive work against Fresno State.

Charlie Haraway, who dislocated his shoulder in the FSC game, will be out of action Saturday. Bill Holland will see limited action due to a bad knee.

Poloists at SFS

Frosh Tourney Today

The freshman water poloists travel to San Francisco State today for the Northern California Water Polo Tournament, their final competition of the season.

The Spartababes won the tournament the last two years, but are not seeded this year. Coach Lee Walton, however, thinks the Spartababes, along with five other teams, are capable of winning the tournament.

Captain Steve Hoberg and Bruce McCall who have starred for the Spartababes in practically every game this season, have scored a total of 89 total goals between them.

Hoberg and McCall, although scoring at will this season, will have to be equally as effective in varsity competition next year.

They will replace Frank Barnes and Gary Read who completed their eligibility last weekend by being named to the State College All-Tournament first team.

"Hoberg and McCall definitely have the potential to replace Read and Barnes," said Walton, "but it is doubtful that the vicious backhand shots employed by Read will be replaced by anyone."

Perhaps the most underrated player on the Spartababe team this year was Greg Swan. Swan set up most of the goals scored by Hoberg and McCall, and scored 26 goals himself.

The Spartababes first tournament game is at 4:30 today.

Chew Places Sixth In Gymnast Meet

Veteran Rich Chew was the only Spartan who placed in the Northern California Gymnastic Tournament at San Francisco State Saturday. Chew placed sixth in the side horse.

Chew was eighth in the all-around, but only the first six places received points. Spartan Jeff Millman's 7th place finish in the trampoline was outstanding because he faced some of the best gymnasts in the world.

The winner of the trampoline event was Jeff Millman, last year's world champion.

Among the competitors who will appear at the Spartans' first home meet Dec. 11 will be Millman, Ray Hadley, all-around world champion, and Rusty Mills, NCAA side horse champion. Hadley was eighth in the Olympics.

Millman, however, could not participate in the Olympics because the trampoline is not an Olympic event.

SJS Runners Meet 8 Teams In Home Meet

The defending national champion San Jose State cross-country team will play host to the West Coast Championship Saturday at 11 a.m. on the Spartan course.

The Spartans will not be competing in the national championship at East Lansing, Mich., this year because Danny Murphy and Tom Tuite, the Spartans' two top men, competed as freshmen and are thus ineligible.

The East Lansing Meet, however, is now a farce. Four of the top seven teams in the U.S. will attend the West Coast Championship on the Spartan course instead.

San Jose State and Stanford are the two best teams in the nation. Stanford allowed its runners to compete as freshmen, so it is also ineligible for the East Lansing Meet.

Competing for Brigham Young University will be Dick Crenner and Bob Delaney. They were the best junior college two mile runners in California last year.

The vastly improved UCLA team, barely defeated in two dual meets with Stanford this year, includes Bob Day, metric mile finalist in the Olympic trials.

The Spartans' Danny Murphy, Tom Tuite, and Joe Neff will all be competing for All-American honors.

The Spartans defeated San Diego State by only two points, and Long Beach State by only eight points, early in the season.

Cal at Santa Barbara is the best small college cross-country team in the U.S.

Thus several teams are capable of winning the West Coast Championship, the most important cross-country meet in the U.S. this year.

Badminton Entries

Badminton entries are due Wednesday in MG121.

The season opens Dec. 1, according to Director of Intramurals Dr. Dan Unruh.

FOOTBALL TEAM

The Spartan football team defeated St. Mary's Gaels in the Homecoming game, 1950. The gridders exploded for two touchdowns in the closing minutes to punch out an 18-6 victory.

By GARY STROM

San Jose State's Far West championship soccer team faces the most powerful team in the Midwest and possibly the nation Saturday when it travels to St. Louis, Mo., and meets undefeated St. Louis University in the NCAA quarterfinals.

Winner of the match will advance to the NCAA finals at Brown University, Providence, R.I., Dec. 3.

Coach Julie Menendez' Spartans downed Air Force Academy, 5-3, last Thursday at Spartan Stadium to win the Far West title.

Air Force Coach Carmen Annillo believes San Jose can down the defending champions and win the NCAA championship if the Spartans play as well as they did against his Falcons.

Annillo says the Billikens have a very fine team, but added that they can be beaten. His booters dropped a 4-2 decision to St. Louis earlier this year.

San Jose State was the only other team to top the Falcons, while also tying them, 3-3, earlier this season.

Menendez and his 16-man team will enplane for the Missouri city Friday. The squad is in top physical condition and should be ready for the stiffest test of the year, according to Menendez.

Spartan Wrestlers Sponsor Tourney

San Jose State plays host to the Northern California Freshman Collegiate Wrestling Tournament at 4 p.m. today in the wrestling room. The Spartababes have won six out of the last eight annual meets.

Coach Hugh Mumby's starting lineup will be Vaughn Imada, 123 lbs.; Walt Armijo, 130 lbs.; Steve Murphy, 137 lbs.; Kris Anderson and John Walbrink, 147 lbs.; Don Witteck, 157 lbs.; Dick Dixon, 177 lbs.; and Rick Cooney, heavy-weight.

The Spartans who won their matches in a 27-11 loss to Foothill last week were Imada, Anderson, and Armijo.

Mumby has urged all freshmen with high school wrestling experience, especially those who weigh over 165, to try for the freshman team.

Send It on Ahead

"For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain that we can carry nothing out." (1 Timothy 6:7).

You can't take it with you! This old familiar expression is confirmed by the Bible which reminds us that we must leave our earthly riches behind when we die.

But a little study of the Word of God, the Bible, will show that you can send "it" on ahead, for God has an investment plan which pays perpetual dividends.

During the Sermon on the Mount the Lord Jesus Christ spoke concerning "treasures" in the life to come: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break in and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." (Matthew 6:19-21).

Step One in God's investment plan is to commit one's resources to Jesus Christ, including one's life. This will bring membership in God's investment family, it will include you among those who now are at work earning eternal rewards and prizes.

In His parable of the unjust steward (Luke 16:1-15) and the parable of the ten talents (Matthew 25:14-29), the Lord Jesus indicated that God entrusts His servants with resources such as money and intellect and special talents which are to be invested now in life on earth. Faithfulness, He said, in the use of what God has given will earn His followers eternal dividends.

In a world where most men seek for their own fame and fortune it is refreshing to discover that God looks at money matters in quite a different way. But God means "business" when He speaks!

"But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall also reap sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully will reap bountifully. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give, not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work." (2 Corinthians 9:6-8).

Have you discovered God's investment plan? Are you a part of His program for eternal rewards? Why not check out His plan and His way? Why lay up temporal treasures which one day you must leave behind? Lay up treasures for eternity now! Begin by investing your life in Jesus Christ. He means what He says, and He is able to "deliver the goods."
